Greetings!

SCVRJP has offered Circle training since 2006 and has provided trainings for agencies, schools, and individuals across the United States.

This brochure contains local training options. Training sessions are interactive and designed to provide learners the methods and the means to deliver effective Restorative Justice Services.

Kris Miner is available for workshops, day trainings, and two-day training sessions. SCVRJP provides a variety of restorative justice sessions using Restorative Justice Circles.

Kris holds a Master's Degree in Counseling and is a PhD candidate. She is a Restorative Justice professor, advocate, author and blogger. Her blog, Circlespace, have been visited over 110,000 times.

Volunteer Facilitators

Training for Hastings Restorative Justice Council will be provided by Kris Miner and Police Chief Paul Schnell. The annual training will prepare volunteers for co-facilitating Restorative Justice. Attending all sessions is preferred.

- Friday – January 20, 2012 6 – 9pm
- Saturday – January 21, 9 am – 3 pm
- Thursdays – February 2, 9 & 16
6:30–9pm

Feedback from past training participants:

“The thing I liked most about the Restorative Justice Circle Training was the facilitator’s knowledge, passion, and belief in this process.”

“In every Circle, the transformation of participants from entering to leaving is incredible. “The change of heart” really happens.”

“I am overly impressed with Restorative Justice and I plan to use it.”

– Middle School Behavior Intervention Specialist
Columbia Heights, MN

“The training weaves together both theory and practice in a way that is easy for participants to apply to many situations.”

– Law Student
Milwaukee, WI

“Kris made using Circle group work seem very accessible to school staff. Circle work is a very powerful tool that has many positive outcomes.”

-Middle School Teacher
Silver Spring, MD
